Investor Bill of Rights

When You Invest, You Have the Right to:

- Ask for and receive information from a firm about the work history and background of the person handling your account, as well as information about the firm itself.
- Receive complete information about the risks, obligations, and costs of any investment before investing.
- Receive recommendations consistent with your financial needs and investment objectives.
- 4. Receive a copy of all completed account forms and agreements.
- Receive account statements that are accurate and understandable.
- Understand the terms and conditions of transactions you undertake.

- Access your funds in a timely manner and receive information about any restrictions or limitations on access.
- Discuss account problems with the branch manager or compliance department of the firm and receive prompt attention to and fair consideration of your concerns.
- Receive complete information about commissions, sales charges, maintenance or service charges, transaction or redemption fees, and penalties.
- 10. Contact your state or provincial securities agency in order to verify the employment and disciplinary history of a salesperson and the salesperson's firm; find out if the investment is permitted to be sold; or file a complaint.

The phone number of your state or provincial securities agency can be obtained by checking the government listings in your telephone book, calling toll-free 1-888-84-NASAA, or visiting ww.nasaa.org on the Internet.
